

National Chi Nan University Study Abroad Credit Conversion Reference Table

To assist National Chi Nan University (hereafter shown as NCNU) students with credit transfer recognition after their study abroad program back to home university, the Office of International and Cross-Strait Affairs of NCNU hereby provides the converting table for individual department/ College to take the table as a reference. The ultimate recognition and final approval of the recognized credit number is under individual department/ College's jurisdiction.

The conversion reference table is composed of 5 major types and others, the illustration as below:

- I. Europe: 2 ECTS equal 1 credit
- II. United Kingdoms: 1 CATS equals 1 credit or 2 ECTS equal 1 credit
- III. United States and Canada: 1 credit equals 1 credit
- IV. Japan, South Korea, Singapore, China: 1 credit equals 1 credit
- V. Australia: 4 credits equal 1 credit
- VI. Others: For those universities that adopt "Quarter system" will be converted at the ratio of 18 teaching hours to 1 credit, for internship or experiment courses shall be using the ratio of 36 ~54 hours to 1 credit. For those universities that adopt different academic week or hour than NCNU, the conversion rate is 18 to 1 credit, those hours cannot be divided with no remainder should be rounded down to an integer. (Eg: A went to one university in South Africa as exchange student and the total teaching hours is 40 hours, 40 divided by 18 equals 2 credits and the remainder of 4 hours should be chopped off. A will hereby be awarded 2 credits at NCNU)
